

UNCLAIMED PROPERTY

British Columbia Unclaimed Property Act The British Columbia Unclaimed Property Act requires holders of unclaimed property, where the last known address is in British Columbia, to maintain a database which sets out the names of unclaimed property owners and the date the unclaimed property became unclaimed. The purpose of this Act is to reunite owners with any unclaimed property Queen Financial Group Inc. and other financial institutions may be holding on their behalf.

Queen Financial Group Inc. (QFGI) has implemented policies and procedures in accordance with British Columbia's Unclaimed Property Act. QFGI considers property to be unclaimed when mail sent to the owner is returned undelivered or when three years have passed since a cheque was issued to the owner and it has not been cashed, and the property value is $50 or greater. QFGI makes efforts to locate and notify owners of their unclaimed property by contacting their financial advisor and/or writing to the owner at their last known address, and we maintain a list of owners of unclaimed property who we have been unable to contact. If you are, or have been, a resident of British Columbia and believe that you have unclaimed property at Queen Financial Group Inc., please contact our Client Service Team @ 416-848-0288 Monday to Friday, 9:30 AM to 6 PM (ET) 7030 Woodbine Ave, Suite 901, Markham, ON, L3R 6G2 .
